Festival Welfare Services is running a day seminar on environmental health aspects of pop festivals. The aim is to examine some of the environmental health problems at festivals, to discuss ways in which these difficulties have been, or could be overcome.

It is hoped that a revised set of guidelines on environmental health standards at festivals may be issued as a result of this seminar.

The seminar will be chaired by Mr W Lloyd, Emergency Planning Officer, Greater Manchester Council, and President of Civil Aid.

The speakers at the seminar will be:

Mr G Holmes (Environmental Health Officer, Reading Borough Council).

Mr R P Batten (Environmental Health Officer, Salisbury District Council).

Mr T Coyne (Environmental Health Officer, North Herts. District Council).

Mr J Stollery (Environmental Health Officer, Waverley District Council).
